press release 11th of July 2013

Yachts from Greifswald and Bremen become international German champions offshore

German Open of Platu25 started

Together with the hanseboot Rund Bornholm also finished the international German championship offshore. With 4.7 points wins the Bremer yacht "LEU" with Albert Schweizer in the division A. The second place achieved the female team "Tutima" from Hamburg, which even took advantage of the wave of a Scandinavian passenger ferry and surpassed it. With a significant distance finished the third vessel, "Bukh Bremen" from Bremen. The best yacht from Rostock became the "Universitas" on place six from the Akademischen Segelverein Rostock.

In division B wins the „SPORTHOTEL“ with skipper Karl Dehler with 8.6 points. The silver and bronze medal remain in Rostock and go to the „KalKEi“ of Frank Schuberth and the "Kea" of Robert Wenndorf. Hereby, the so far biggest, international German championship finished with additional sunshine. The youngest participant of the championship was the eleven year old Lars Siedler from Warnemünde.

At the hanseboot Rund Bornholm eight special prizes were awarded. The Kyria-Pokal for the winning yacht in all categories according to calculated time and yardsticks received "Augustin Sumser" with skipper Sebastian Schröder from Berlin. Torsten Haverland, managing director of the Landessportbund Mecklenburg-Vorpommern and also participant at the Finn-Dinghy races tomorrow, handed over the anniversary-cup of Deutscher Segler-Verband to the "Augustin Sumser". The Knurrhahn-Cup for the winning yacht according to calculated time and ORC received the "Needles and Pins" from Kiel with Peter Hecht. The hanseboot-Cup for the fastest sailed time in 2013 achieved the "SEB" of Ralf Kudra. At the same time the 19.5 meter long vessel became the best boat from Rostock. A special prize for the category "Double Hand" received the "FBE-ASIC Network" of Frank Eckhardt – all in all, he and his crew only took 57 hours on a 6.5 meter long vessel. Another prize received Graf Popken of the "Maximum" in the category youth team, meaning that more than half of the crew was younger than 21 years.

Thomas Wilbrandt with his boat "Erich" received the price for the best charter boat according to calculated time and yardstick. The price for the oldest team achieved Walfried Luksch and his crew on the "Lucky Star". "The Warnemünder per se" won, according to the race director Uwe Wenzel the "WARNEMÜNDER WOCHE-CUP" – he meant Uwe Jahnke with his yacht "Ventus II". The result was a combination of the Warnemünde Cup, 2 Up & Downs and the hanseboot Rund Bornholm.

The second part of the 76. WARNEMÜNDER WOCHE was opened by the German Open of the Platu25

After the calm regatta day yesterday the competitions in the different categories finally continued today. The Platu25 sailed their first three races of the German Open. Four to six crew members showed their skills on the 7.51 meter long boat. Also Stephanie Schmidt and her four crew members from Stuttgart participated: "This will be an amazing sailing day, we have wind and sunshine, what else can you wish for!", said the native of Stuttgart during her preparations for the first sailing. For already four years she sails regattas. "After you can no longer sail the youth categories, the Platu25 offer a good alternative before you sail the big yachts."

Ingo Lochmann and his crew from Berlin were regarded as strong candidates even before regatta start. After the first three races they are on position one. At the moment, they are heading the German ranking and they won at the Kieler Woche. Also the team from Rostock with Andreas Groß wants to compete successfully on their local sailing area:
